“Holiday Decorations” at NEW DEWEY!

A collection of recently planted pine trees gives a festive holiday feeling to the grounds of the new Dewey Short Regional Visitor Center. The tree pictured above has been digital decorated! The landscaping is progressing with the addition of several varieties of native trees gracing the entire site. The rain garden got its first test during recent rainfalls and is already functioning as planned.

Inside the building, the finishing touches are being added. Carpets are installed in the offices, theatre and multipurpose rooms. Decorative lighting is in place- which when added to the natural light streaming in gives luminescence to the interior space. Work has now begun to ready the building for the next exciting phase- arrival of the gallery exhibits!

2011 has been a year of progress at the new Dewey Short Regional Visitor Center. The “Crown Jewel” of Table Rock Lake will be opening soon, and with all the extraordinary features included in its design, this facility will be a “must see” for visitors and locals alike! The Grand Opening and Ribbon Cutting ceremony are scheduled for late April. Keep reading The Paper Buoy for details and the latest event calendar.

Corps Corner

If you're the adventurous type, try winter camping at US Army Corps of Engineer parks! Cape Fair, Indian Point and Cricket Creek parks at Table Rock Lake are available for camping with limited amenities. All other Corps parks are closed for the season. Please visit the Corps website at www.swl.usace.army.mil for more information.

Remember to ALWAYS play it safe at the lake. Cold weather can prove challenging! Plan your trip and "think smart". Know the weather forecast and the water temperature before you set out. Keep your body fueled with high carbohydrate foods and lots of water. Insulate your body, dress in layers using synthetic fabrics and wear a warm hat.

Our lake is your lake! Have fun and be safe!
